Delhi govt sets up Chhath panel; Kapil Mishra to lead

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, OCT. 13

Delhi chief minister Rekha Gupta has constituted a high-level committee to oversee preparations for the Chhath Puja festivities in the national capital. Minister for art, culture and tourism Kapil Mishra has been appointed as the chairperson of the committee.

The committee will identify suitable locations for the celebration of Chhath Puja across the city and review arrangements related to amenities, safety, sanitation, transportation, and the overall convenience of devotees before submitting its report to the government.

"Chhath Puja is not only a cultural identity of Purvanchal but also of Delhi. It symbolises our collective faith and unity. Unfortunately, previous governments deliberately disregarded the faith of millions of devotees," Mr Mishra said.

"However, this time, the Delhi government aims to ensure that every devotee can perform the rituals in a safe and respectful environment. We will make sure that all ghats have the best possible arrangements for cleanliness, safety, traffic management, lighting, and medical facilities," the minister added.

According to officials, this year, the festival will be held at approximately 1,000 locations across the city. These will include sites along the Yamuna riverbanks, the Munak canal, and several artificial ponds.

Harassment row rocks AIIMS, head of cardiac dept removed

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, OCT. 13

AIIMS-Delhi has removed Dr A.K. Bisoi as the head of the cardio thoracic and vascular surgery (CTVS) department, pending an inquiry into a complaint of harassment against him by a female nursing staff.

According to sources, the AIIMS Nurses Union had filed a complaint with the AIIMS director and the Prime Minister's Office alleging workplace intimidation and sexual harassment, and repeated use of "vulgar, unprofessional and derogatory language" by Dr Bisoi targeting the female staff.

The AIIMS administration has handed over the charge of the CTVS department to senior professor Dr V. Devagourou with immediate effect.

"In view of the complaint dated 30.09.2025 received from a female nursing officer of the Department of CTVS against Dr A.K. Bisoi, professor and HoD of CTVS, and the representations in that regard received from the AIIMS Nurses Union dated 30/09/2025, 04/10/2025, and 07/10/2025, the Director has assigned the charge of Head of the Dept of CTVS to Dr V. Devagourou, Professor of CTVS, with immediate effect, till further orders," an AIIMS memorandum issued on October 11 said.

The AIIMS Nurses Union, in the complaint to the PMO on October 9, said it had "by our communications dated 30.09.2025 and 04.10.2025 addressed to the Director AIIMS-New Delhi had brought to his kind notice regarding the severe and disturbing conduct of Dr A.K. Bisoi... For the use of abusive, vulgar and sexist language against one of the members who happens to be a woman nursing staff."

Dr Bisoi has been repeatedly using "vulgar, unprofessional language against the female nursing staff, alleged the complaint.

rheumatology at AIIMS, said, "In my outpatient clinic at AIIMS, almost seven out of every 10 patients with autoimmune diseases are women. We see a clear pattern — women often come late because they overlook persistent symptoms. Genetic make-up, hormonal changes during reproductive age and after childbirth, combined with stress, obesity, and nutritional deficiencies, can make them more vulnerable to autoimmune diseases. It's time we recognised autoimmune disorders as a major women's health issue in India." Highlighting the need for focused policies, conference chairman Dr Rohini Handa, senior consultant at Indraprastha Apollo Hospitals, said, "Autoimmune diseases are as common as diabetes or heart disease, yet they get far less attention. When 70 per cent of those affected are women, we can't treat it as a gender-neutral issue."
